

A close-up photograph of a person's hands, wearing a black jacket, using a multimeter to test a car's engine. The multimeter is orange and black, with red and black probes connected to it. The person is holding the red probe and touching it to a metal part of the engine. The background shows various engine components, including a white plastic reservoir. The text 'PRO TOOLS' is overlaid in large white letters, with 'PRO' in a teal oval. Below it, the tagline 'GET THE JOB DONE RIGHT' is written in a curved path. At the bottom, there is information about the issue date and validity, and three brand logos: BOXO, POWERHAND, and HURRICANE.
